CLAIR BEE
Coach

CLAIR BEE

COACHES BULLET SQUAD

Clair Bee, for many years a big-name coach in college basketball, has been signed to succeed Chick Reiser as coach of the Baltimore Bullets for the 1952-53 National Basketball Association season.

Bee was comptroller and basketball coach at Long Island University, which discontinued basketball a year ago. He coached through 21 seasons and developed three undefeated national champions.

Coach Bee, who resides in Roscoe, New York, is now 52 years of age and has served in both World Wars. He is married and the father of two children—Clair Francis, Jr., aged 3, and a brand new daughter.

Bee is regarded as a keen student of basketball. He is the author of 16 books on sports technique and eight novels written with a sports background.

His record through the years in college basketball shows an .880 winning percentage. The new Bullet coach coached the College All-Stars several years in a series with the Harlem Globetrotters.

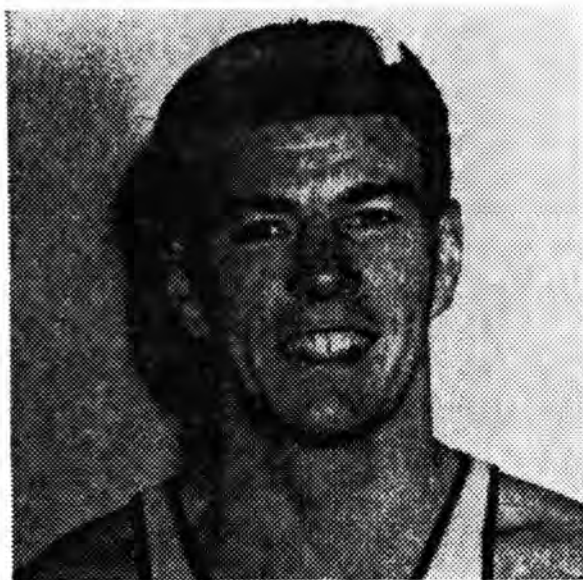

The new mentor of the Bullets starred in several sports during his college career. He won 15 varsity letters at Waynesburg.

President Eddie Leonard was very pleased over the acquisition of such a well-known basketball brain as Bee and feels that the Bullet squad is sure to benefit greatly from the vast knowledge and schooling of the veteran basketball coach.

Bee not only knows basketball but has contacts which should serve to bring here new talent, which should prove to be a great asset in the future.

Believed to be the big secret of the new mentor's success in the past is the fact that he has always been able to get more out of the men he has coached than the average leader.

PAUL HOFFMAN

Former Purdue All-American and three-year pro veteran attempting a comeback with the Bullets after a year's retirement. One of the major factors in steering the Bullets to the 1947-48 B. A. A. championship when he tallied 388 points in 37 games. Did not play in 1948-49 season, but returned again to the pro wars with the Bullets for the 1949-50 campaign, during which he led the club in scoring with 866 points in 60 games. The following year, Hoffman tallied 359 points in 41 games, missing a third of the season through injury and illness. He went into voluntary retirement last year. Married.

ED MILLER

This young giant reports to the Hawks after a great undergraduate career in the tough Eastern, Intercollegiate circuit. Numbered among his outstanding single performances are a 40-point spree in the Buffalo Auditorium against Canisius College (setting both a school and court record), and a 26-point effort which enabled his team to defeat the great 1950 C. C. N. Y. quintet. In addition to numerous All-America mentions, Miller was chosen All-Tournament Center after the 1951 National Campus Basketball Tourney which his club won, and was the Hawks' second choice in the N. B. A. annual college draft in April of this year.

BALTIMORE BULLETS

LEAGUE RULES

The National Basketball Association will adhere to the current college playing rules with the following exceptions:

1. All games will be played in four 12 minute periods.
2. Each player is permitted six personal fouls.
3. All technical fouls charged to player for unsportsmanlike conduct shall also be charged as a personal foul.
4. The free-throw lane is to be bounded by two lines 12 feet apart.
5. Any player who is fouled and injured and cannot attempt his foul shot and must be removed from the game for a substitute cannot re-enter the game. His substitute is to be selected by the opposing coach.
6. If a double-foul occurs, and participating players thereby incur a sixth personal foul, such players shall attempt the foul shot before leaving the game.
7. No zone defense is allowed.
8. When a team is reduced to five eligible players, these players must finish the game, except in case of injury. Any one of the last five players in the game, upon committing his sixth personal foul, shall be penalized by a technical foul in addition to the personal foul. The same penalty shall be imposed for any additional personal fouls committed after the sixth personal foul. An injured player who must be replaced can be replaced only by the last player who was put out of the game.
9. During the last two minutes of a regulation game, there shall be a jump ball after each successful free throw or in the case of two free throws, after the second attempted free throw, if successful. The jump shall be between the fouled player and the player whom the fouled player was playing immediately prior thereto.
10. The spaces now designated by the figures H and V alongside the free throw lane shall be occupied by two players of the defensive team with the other players alternating on both sides of the free throw lane.

WELCOME BACK JOE CHASE

JOE CHASE, Bullets' sportscaster on WITH, is in his second year of calling the plays and the players for the radio broadcasts. "Big Joe" comes to the Bullets with several years of radio and television sports and special events work behind him—basketball, baseball, football, boxing, and other major sports.

The hard-working, 26-year-old bachelor aims to give you the complete story on each and every play, while it happens. He's aware of the thousands who check his call by watching TV while they listen, so keeps it short and accurate. Asked about the biggest thrill in broadcasting the games, Joe says: "Just about every minute of every game in N. B. A. ball keeps me going, but I do get a kick out of the Bullets when they're hot and working as a unit—and especially when Freddie's hitting with that outside shot!"

Joe began his radio career in upstate New York, while at college, and continued in Scranton and Elmira, and came to Baltimore in October, 1948. Since then, he's been active in Baltimore radio and TV circles, with the Loyola college basketball games, the Bullets, A. A. U. boxing, and numerous special events. He's an active member of the board of directors for the Baltimore Sports Boosters, and looks forward to the day when Baltimore will have active major league clubs in all the big sports.

Joe's one complaint is common to all sportscasters: He works so hard during the game, keeping up on all plays, that when it's over he remembers less about the action during the game than many of his listeners! Next time you're home on a basketball night, and can't make the game, dial 1230 for WITH and follow the game with Joe Chase!

AD WIENERT NEW T. V. MAN

AD WIENERT

A new face and a new sponsor combine to bring you professional basketball on television this season. Ad Wienert, whose reputation and popularity won him play by play of Bullets basketball, joins with the brewers of Hals Premium Beer to form a new TV team. Ad, a native Baltimorean and alumnus of Chestertown's Washington College, is no stranger to local television and radio. His career in the home town dates back to the early days of telecasting at WMAR-TV. After four years of staff duties ranging from "cowhand" emcee of a children's show to racing commentator at Laurel and Pimlico, Wienert resigned to free-lance in Baltimore, Washington and New York. Since January of 1952, he has been spreading his time among various sponsors and agencies. Other than basketball, Ad may be seen on at least five other TV shows in Baltimore each week.

Prior to Baltimore television, the new voice of the Bullets spent three years in the "bush leagues" of radio: G. I. announcer at Okinawa's WXLH, disc jockey at a 250 watt in the mountains of Virginia and staff announcer in York, Pa.

Ask Ad what was his most memorable moment in television and he'll bend your ear describing the first soap box derby here in Baltimore. This yearly event stands out in his mind as one of the most thrilling of all sporting events.

Hals Beer and Ad's voice are regular sight and sound fare every Wednesday, Saturday and Sunday that the Bullets play at home. The channel is 13—WAAM.

As far as personal athletic endeavor is concerned, Ad believes golf is the game. Says he gets his exercise rooting in the rough for lost ones. When not replacing divots, he spends his time with his wife, Jeanne, and his two future Bullets, Steve and Chris.
